Vijay Pathrikar's Thorle Saheb: A Milestone in Marathi Literature

Dr. Ganesh Mohite

Vice-Principal, Balbhim College, Beed

Introduction:

Thorle Saheb is a well-known Marathi novel by Vijay Pathrikar. Recently Goda publication has published second edition of the novel. It is great achievement for any writer to have second edition in such a short time. Though Dr. Pathrikar is a professor of physical education and a well-known player he proved himself as a popular writer. Actually readers wanted to know Dr. Pathrikar as a novelist because novel is really tough form of literature. But like visionary writer's extraordinary piece of writing the present novel 'Thorle Saheb' has been created immovable place in Marathi literary circle. Especially the structure, memorandum and diction of the novel is discussable. The plot of the novel is very relevant writer's expressions of devoutness in his life. The novel is a polite search of his favorite personality. Thorle Saheb is a biography of a great personality. It is always challenge to write a biography for any writer. There is a basic difference between biography and biographical novel. Marathi literature has a great inheritance of biographical novel. The historical, mythical, legendary, bravery, adventure and a view about life were the subjects of zeal meditation and innovation of the writers. If sixty there was a huge wave of biographical novel in Marathi literature. After sixty this tradition has been extended but there is no any noteworthy biographical novel because many visionary writers could not associate with imaginary and reality. So, we are the witness of its results. But Dr. Vijay Pathrikar accepted this challenge and got success by writing such a novel Thorle Saheb.

Thorle Saheb is a life journey of Hon. Yashwantrao Chavan. Hon. Yashvantrao is always a source of devoutness, proud an inspiration for Maharashtra. The contemporary generations have love, kindness, esprit, affection, liking and great respect about Yashvantrao. He is known as a 'A best role model of political character' in politics of Maharashtra. He is well-known for his multi-level life style, multi-dimensional personality. While laying the foundations of modern Maharashtra he got rich in all the fields of life. Due to his strategic decisions related to multi-sector areas like agriculture, industry, co-operatives, education, arts, sports and culture Maharashtra on of progressive state of that time has been counted as a progressed. His journey as a chief minister of Maharashtra to deputy prime minister of India was extraordinary. He created his role in Indian politics. A person who had a simple family background who makes himself a great political, social icon this life story of Yashvantrao is an inspirable thing for all new generations. Therefore the present novel Thorle Saheb by Dr. Pathrikar is written for a noble reason that it will reach to the new generations in virtuous style. Yashvantrao himself was a writer and many of his books are well-known. His personality is always the topic for many writers for political researches, novel, drama and cinema. But it is a first experiment to write such a narrative novel in the view of Venutai. Dr. Pathrikar accepted the challenge and wrote the novel in an eloquent style. The present novel is the life journey of Yashvantrao from childhood to death of Venutai. The journey has been expressed very beautifully, neatly and equally neutral by author. Dr. Pathrikar has been presented political, social and cultural history of Maharashtra without any self addition in the form of Thorle Saheb. The biography of Yashvantrao and Maharashtra's political history is not different. The present novel has three parts as Sonhira, Sahyadri, and Atkepaar through that novelist speaks about Yashvantrao's biography and contemporary social, political, cultural condition neutrally.
